Legion Auxiliary Making Plans for Poppy Day, 28

Mayor John Scaife receives the first poppy from Mrs. Russell Elliott, Legion Auxiliary President, and makes his donation. Mayor Scaife proclaimed Saturday, May 28 as the Auxiliary's Poppy day.

"Wear a Poppy—Honor the Dead and Aid the Disabled." This will be the appeal of the American Legion Auxiliary to the people of Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Clermont Harbor Saturday morning, May 28, when annual Poppy Day will be observed here.

Everyone in the city will be asked to wear a memorial poppy in honor of the nation's war dead, and to make a contribution to the welfare of war's living victims, the disabled veterans and needy children of every day of the year.

The poppies have been made by the Auxiliary by disabled veterans of three wars working at the Gulfport VA Hospital. They are crepe paper replicas of the famous Flanders Field poppy, the little wild flower which grew in the battle fields and in the cemeteries in Europe, and which has been the war memorial of the English-speaking world ever since World War I.

An election held Tuesday, May 10 found three of the candidates running neck and neck. A recent recount of votes was held Wednesday morning at the Court House.

Charles Russ received 147 votes. A tie with Ed Martin and Carl Miller each receiving 137 votes will put three men into the second race.

Others in the first primary were Mrs. Jos. C. Jones, who received 87 votes, and B. U. Carver, with 17.

A majority of votes cast must be gained by a candidate to eliminate a runoff. Since no candidate received such a majority the runoff will be between the top candidate and the two who tied for second place.

Southern Bell officials announced today that "the company completed more telephone calls for the people of the South in April, despite the strike and despite attempts to disrupt the service, than in any previous April."

At the same time, spokesmen said that the total number of employees at work passed 31,000 on Friday.

Figures released today disclosed that 15,682,000 long distance calls were completed in 9 states in April this year against 15,317,000 in April 1954, previous high April, or 365,000 more. Yes, indeed...biscuits go like hot cakes when you pour on plenty of delicious dark Karo...there's nothing like it for good eating. Satisfying flavor. So rich it stands right up on top of biscuits (keeps 'em light and fluffy). Keep Karo on your table morning, noon and night...it tops anything!

Bay High— TIGER TALES HARDEST THEME OF BAY HIGH MAY FESTIVAL

The festival was given at Bay High School Friday evening, May 11, 8:00. Theme of the May Festival was Stardust. The decorations were beautiful and the stars shimmering in keeping with the theme. The beauty of each star as each entered the court, the beauty of the court walked into the garden. In the center of the garden was a water lily pond. Around this garden was a realistic looking rock wall. The trees were seen in the distance. Members of the court displayed an array of beautiful flowers in lovely pastel colors. Each girl carried a bouquet of flowers which harmonized in color with her gown.

The dukes gave an atmosphere of dignity to the court in their formal summer suits.

The Queen was a picture of a brunette beauty. Her exquisite gown was white chantilly lace and nylon net over taffeta. Her mantle and train was light blue nylon net and silk. It was embroidered in an intricate design of blue sequins. Her crown was made of white net, flowers and rhinestones. She carried an arm bouquet of red American beauty roses. Her regal grace and charm was shown throughout the evening.

Likewise, the Maid of Honor was beautifully gowned in nylon net and lace. The color of this gown was the same shade of blue as that of the Queen's Mantle and train.

Thirty-three members of the

BANK INDUSTRIES TO OFFER PAYROLL SAVINGS PLAN
A Greenwood banker has set out a project to stimulate a state-wide savings plan among manufacturing workers and at the same time stabilize the economy of the state and nation.

His proposal has been endorsed by the State Agricultural and Industrial Board.

R. P. (Bob) Parish, Jr., President of the Bank of Greenwood and Chairman of the Mississippi division of the American Bankers Association Savings Bonds Committee, has proposed that the voluntary payroll deduction savings bond plan be offered in all new industries coming to the state under the Balance Agriculture with Industry Program.

Parish pointed out that only 12 per cent of the 90,000 industrial workers of Mississippi are regular buyers of savings bonds through payroll deductions.

"If more manufacturing work were practiced this method of saving," he said, "it would not only allow them to save their own money, but it would help the state build a defense program."

Parish said that the plan would stabilize the state's economy and create a stabilized state purchasing power. "Newell McAlpin, Director of Savings Bonds sales for the state, said Parish's proposal was submitted to the A & I Board, where it was readily approved."

DRIVER TRAINING SCHOLARSHIP PLAN IS LAUNCHED AT STATE

STATE COLLEGE, Miss (Special)—A scholarship program to provide Mississippi with more driver education teachers was announced this week by President Ben Hilburn of Mississippi State College.

With a grant made to the school by the Allstate Foundation, $3 scholarships worth $70 each will be granted Mississippi teachers selected to participate in the program. Two classes will be taught as a part of the regular term of summer school at State College, June 7 to July 8.

Prof. R. T. Sawyer of State College, well known as a trainer of driver education instructors, will conduct the classes that will include both classroom and behind-the-wheel instruction. During recent years Professor Sawyer has trained hundreds of teachers as driver education instructors.

The grants-in-aid will be made on the basis of priority formula to be agreed upon between Mississippi State College and the Allstate Foundation. Applicants for the grants must be in-service teachers who meet all requirements for admission to the college.

Teachers in three categories will be selected for the 58 scholarships: (1) teachers from schools without driver education programs that wish to inaugurate such training; (2) teachers from schools with driver training programs that have lost their instructors; and (3) teachers from schools that wish to expand driver training programs already started.

President Ben Hilburn said this expansion of driver education and traffic safety program carried on at State College since 1947 is part of a nationwide drive by public and private institutions to cut down on the increased number of traffic accidents.

A brochure describing the course and outlining the procedure for applying for the scholarships is now being prepared. Teachers interested in applying for these grants-in-aid should write B. P. Brooks, dean of the School of Education, State College, Miss.

IDLE MOMENTS REFLECTION

Did you ever sit down and try to think in a straight line? Try to draw a picture of what a wonderful and magnificent world we live in.

Do you ever speculate on what time and opportunity has done for us?

Time is the great healer of all acute worries. Time dings the memory and takes the keen edge from our present hurts, else we could not stand the mental anguish of the wounds in our present.

Time that had no beginning will have no ending, regardless of the old saying that time will be no more. If you doubt this, then what was before time and what will be when time is no more? It was never started and will never be stopped—just an imaginary thing at both ends.

Scientists tell us that we are sailing through space at enormous speed in a maze dance among our sister planets and at the same time spinning like a top at a terrific speed, much faster than present man made objects.

These learned men tell us we are slewing down in the spin. Everything that moves moves with what we call resistance which acts as a brake. We know that this old earth is checked in a gaseous bag which we name atmosphere. This, along with the land and water, is held to the earth by gravity and subject to the pull of the tide same as the water and the land.

The atmosphere appears to be feathery light and invisible, but it weighs thousands of tons per square mile. When the atmosphere goes on a rampage it can do plenty of damage. The reason it is so heavy is because there is so much of it.

Its movement depends on heat and cold for contraction and expansion. It is restless, ever on the move and sometimes gets in a hurry. This puts a powerful brake or drag on the earth's rotation. We are told that this old earth is slowing down about one second every hundred years. Now ain't that something to worry about?

Will the earth ever stop?

Yes, it will stop some of these days. That is, if time is marked in days at that distant age. If this is so, what's going to happen? No one will be here to see this fantastic thing. Life will become extinct in the slow process which will cause seasonal changes too drastic for life.

What's going to happen when the earth stops turning and comes to a dead standstill? One thing, the climate will be very uncomfortable.

On the sunny side it will be warm, but on the shady side it will be near absolute zero.

But, most people, when they think of the future, they think of the future in terms of the future. They think of the future in terms of the future. They think of the future in terms of the future.

And besides, we would have time to start all over again several times and even reach several times a decent civilization in each time.

WE CAN PROTECT OUR FORESTS

By CHARLOTTE ALLEN

It is the forestry which is in the first place in a contest in the Southeast District comprising sixteen southern Mississippi counties.

Good forest management requires the protection of the forest from fires, insects, diseases, destructive grazing, and demands good types of cuttings which will keep the land in the most forest crops of the kinds of trees.

Means planned cuttings at regular intervals from every acre of forest land.

There are many ways in which we can protect our forests. It is to cut some of the trees in they are about twenty years old. Crooked, diseased and growing trees should be removed and sold for pulpwood.

When this is done the other trees grow faster. We can protect our forest by cutting our wildlife, because they eat many insects which help destroy our trees. The birds help to scatter seeds from trees which replant the forest.

CENSUS SUPERVISOR URGES BUSINESS MEN TO FILE REPORTS

By CHARLOTTE ALLEN

Collection of reports in the 1954 Census of Business, Manufactures and Mineral Industries, which are being conducted nationwide by the Bureau of Census, Department of Commerce, now is moving into the home stretch.

Thirty-eight temporary field offices, established early this year to conduct these censuses, are concentrating on the task of working themselves out of a job. These offices will be closed as soon as all business men have filed their reports and these reports have been checked and relayed to Washington.

Among these field offices the one serving this area is that of Census Supervisor Henry O. Swann, located at Jackson.

Here 8 employees are at work processing reports received to date from 12,000 establishments. They are aiming for completion of the job in the next few weeks when reports from a remaining 2,800 establishments have been received. Registered letters are being sent to establishments which have not filed their reports in compliance with Census law, formally notifying them their reports have not been received despite several previous reminders and that these reports must be returned promptly in accordance with the law.

USE CARE BUYING TOMATO PLANTS

Some pointers to help home gardeners make a good buy in tomato plants are offered by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Plants in top condition to set and well-rooted and fresh looking, about 8 to 10 inches tall with sturdy stems and deep green leaves. Also avoid any that show signs of insects or disease. Some tomato plants sell in individual containers. These may cost more but often are worth the extra price.

OLD KLEIN HOME
Located in Vicksburg, this house is of special interest because there remains embedded in the woodwork of the drawing room a cannon ball fired into the house from a federal gunboat located on the river. There is a mound in the yard that contained a cave used by the family during the bombardments. This house and grounds were featured in the filming of "The Crisis."

Union Leaders Are Dodging the Issue in the Telephone Strike

They are issuing a lot of misleading statements about the company's position on arbitration.

These statements don't check with the facts. Look at these facts:

Ever since we've had a contract with the union, the true intent and meaning of every provision of every agreement between the company and the union has been subject to arbitration.

Before the strike started, Southern Bell proposed that any disciplinary action resulting from violations of the no-strike clause demanded by the company would be subject to arbitration.

Before the strike started, Southern Bell proposed that all suspensions of employees, regardless of the cause, would be subject to arbitration.

In spite of what union leaders have said, the truth is that before the strike started Southern Bell proposed full and complete arbitration on every type of discipline that could be imposed under the new contract.

In fact, not only all discipline but practically every other item in the new contract proposed by the company before the strike started was made subject to arbitration. The only items on which no arbitration is available under the company proposal are the pension plan, leaves of absence, company compliance with health, safety and fire protection laws and demotions and discharges during trial periods — matters which the union and company have agreed over the years in collective bargaining should not be left to the final decision of an arbitrator. This is all a responsible union should want.

But this union wants still more.

They are going so far as to demand that an arbitrator be called in now to decide what the terms of the new contract shall be. He would, in effect, write a whole new contract and his decision would be final. There his responsibility ends.

Southern Bell's management is charged with the sole responsibility for providing communications services in the area the company serves. It cannot surrender that responsibility to others. Our obligation under the law cannot be delegated. We must retain the right to make the final decisions essential to the sound and effective management of this public service.

The issue in this strike is simple and clear—will union leaders live up to a contract once it is signed?

Southern Bell guarantees good wages, good working conditions and other contract benefits. In return it asks only that union leaders agree not to disrupt service to the public by strikes while the contract is in force.

This they refuse to do on any reasonable basis. They still demand the right to call workers off the job whenever it suits their purposes, while the contract is in effect. They want the contract to be binding on the company but not on them.

SOUTHERN BELLES THEME OF SJA FESTIVAL

"Southern Belles" was the theme of the annual May Ball presented last Saturday night by St. Joseph Academy.

Miss Alice Scaife, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. John Scaife, reigned graciously over the large gathering present to pay her and her court homage.

The May Queen chose as her King Douglas Talbot, and Little Dale Russell and John Scaife Jr. were attendants to their majesties.

The queen was exquisite in an original gown fashioned on Empress Josephine lines, made of imported pure French silk and silk chantilly lace.

The gown was made of lace, and an over skirt of silk, with insets of lace placed in a scalloped design fell gracefully to the floor.

A train of chantilly lace swept from the back of the gown and the entire dress was studded with iridescent sequins and imported crystal giving an effect of diamond drops sparkling.

The gown was made of an underdress of bluish colored nylon tulle. Her mantle was of white silk and had a medallion collar with a large unprescribed pleated flounce outlining the entire garment.

This was embroidered with the sequins and crystals. She wore pink orchids in her hair and carried a bouquet of matching orchids.

Dale Russell, her majesty's little maid, was adorable in orchid colored nylon tulle made on the antebellum period lines. She carried an old fashioned nosegay of pink blooms.

Miss Gaydell Cue, maid of honor to her majesty, was beautiful in white lace and nylon tulle. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses.

Miss Cue selected for her duke of honor Woody Santa Cruz, and their attendants were Sylvia Cain and Carey Phillips.

Members of the Court were: Kay Cabell, Phyllis Seuzeneau.

the father of two children. My elementary and high school education was completed at St. Stanislaus and attended Tulane University. I served as Chief of Police of Bay St. Louis and my record of service to the people in that capacity is open for inspection.

At the present time I am employed by Terminal Steamship Company as 1st Asst. Engineer on their steamship line. Because of the fact that my employment keeps me away from my home it will be almost impossible for me to contact the voters as I would like to do. During the very short time I will have at my disposal to see the voters before the election I will make every attempt to see as many of you as possible.

My Friends, I am well aware of the many duties and responsibilities that go with the Office of Clerk of Courts of Hancock County, and if elected, I will be able to give to the people a fair and impartial Administration during my tenure of Office.

I assure you that your favorable consideration of my candidacy will be very greatly appreciated.
